Smoky Valley Ranch Hiking Trails. On this land, you'll see a sight that has almost vanished from America — bison roaming a short grass prairie as they did hundreds of years ago. But Smoky Valley Ranch is more than prairie. Dramatic chalk bluffs overlook large expanses of grassland, rocky ravines and Smoky Hill River. Breaks along the upper reaches of the river represent a transition zone between mixed grass and short grass prairie environments. Prairie vistas and chalk bluffs greet hikers as they wind their way around the two trail loops.

Tour time: Varies depending on route chosen. The first loop is one-mile hike. The second loop is five mile hike. Hiking trails are open year round. No charge. Because of the rough terrain, boots are recommended. Any items brought in like water bottles or food wrappers must be taken out. Direction and hiking trail maps available at the Buffalo Bill Cultural Center. 785-671-1000

In partnership with Kansas Dept. of Wildlife, Parks & Tourism, the site has been designated as “Little Jerusalem Badlands State Park.” State park pass required. Guided tours available.
